The Let's Talk About It magazine is developed by The Rural Women's Health Project. The views and opinions in this magazine from the members of Let's Talk About It, are meant to inspire you, challenge you and encourage you to seek the advice of your provider and should not take precedent over the treatment plan developed between you and your doctor. We welcome all comments.

Women living with HIV and female caregivers are invited to join LTAI. Or, perhaps you would like to receive calls or letters from an LTAI Peer Advocate.
